

American History Writing Assignment—1st Quarter, Week 6

John Locke and Thomas Hobbes have very different views of human nature and the best form of government. In a short essay describe their views and give your opinion, whose views of human nature and government were correct and why?